About me: I am a vibrant (in spirit and essence) young woman with a determined spirit who has so much to contribute in the world, and I'm looking for help to support me towards this aim of recovery from a very tough 14 year health condition.

I am determined to recover my health despite being very unwell for so many years. My days at present are very limited, and I am resolute in overcoming incredibly painful symptoms. I require help with most daily activities.

I am looking for a magical helper(s) to support me to regain my life.

My illness includes a chronic sore throat meaning it is necessary to rest it to avoid aggravating it further – however, I adore people and nothing gives more pleasure than talking and connecting with people.

I am 24/7 bedridden (but have the capacity to move). I have a complex gastric condition which is by far the most devastating aspect of my condition.

Pay rate: £13.50 – £13.75 per hour depending on experience (tbd)

Holiday: Pro rata as per self employed PA entitlement

Desirable: Kindness and compassion. Naturally caring and nurturing. Calm, efficient, practical, very well-organised, a good multi-tasker, flexible.
