A bit about me:

I am a 31-year-old male, I live at home with my dad. I enjoy gaming and watching sport, especially football and Formula 1 motor racing.

About the role:

I am able to walk short distances, but I am also a wheelchair user so I am looking for someone who would support me, in particular, when I am out and about in the community. I enjoy visiting my relatives who live locally and popping into town but at the moment I can't do this without dad. However, I think with encouragement and support I could become more independent, I'm thinking that I could perhaps do a little bit of shopping so I could make my own lunch, I could catch the bus to go further afield and maybe try new activities that I've not even thought of doing!

The kind of person I am looking for:

I am looking for somebody who is friendly and approachable, reliable and trustworthy. Someone who will enjoy my company but be able to encourage me to step out of my comfort zone. No personal care is needed and no lifting as I am able to transfer myself to and from my wheelchair.
